

The figure displays a 15x15 heatmap of a matrix. The diagonal elements are dark blue, representing a value of -1.0. The off-diagonal elements are red, representing a value of 1.0. The matrix is symmetric, with the same pattern of red and blue squares mirrored across the diagonal. The overall pattern suggests a specific relationship between the rows and columns, possibly representing a graph or a network structure.

